Choosing investments that are right for you.

Following the simple steps outlined in this guide may help you become more confident with your investment decisions.

If you don't make a choice, your plan will invest your contributions in an asset allocation option on your behalf. This option is selected based on your date of birth and a projected retirement age of 65. (You may want to consider a different option if this is not your intended retirement age.)

Offering professional management and monitoring as well as diversification all in one investment, it becomes more conservative as your retirement date approaches. You can change this option any time you wish.

Generally target retirement date (lifecycle) investment options are designed to be held beyond the presumed retirement date to offer a continuing investment option for the investor in retirement. The year in the investment option name refers to the approximate year an investor in the option would plan to retire and likely would stop making new contributions to the investment option. However, investors may choose a date other than their presumed retirement date to be more conservative or aggressive depending on their own risk tolerance.

Target retirement date (lifecycle) investment options are designed for participants who plan to withdraw the value of their accounts gradually after retirement. Each of these options follows its own asset allocation path ("glide path") to progressively reduce its equity exposure and become more conservative over time. Options may not reach their most conservative allocation until after their target date. Others may reach their most conservative allocation in their target date year. Investors should consider their own personal risk tolerance, circumstances and financial situation. These options should not be selected solely on a single factor such as age or retirement date. Please consult the prospectus (if applicable) pertaining to the options to determine if their glide path is consistent with your long-term financial plan. Target retirement date investment options' stated asset allocation may be subject to change. A target date fund may not achieve its objective and/or you could lose money on your investment in the fund. You may experience losses near, at, or after the target date. There is no guarantee of the fund's principal value, including at the target date, or that the fund will provide adequate income at and through your retirement.

Understanding asset allocation.

Determining your asset allocation is an important first step in choosing investment options in your workplace retirement plan.

Asset allocation is how you divide your savings among different investment types such as stocks, bonds, and short-term investments.

Here we highlight four basic steps in developing your asset allocation strategy.

Step 1 - Understand the asset classes.

Consider that your choices generally focus on three things: stocks, bonds and short-term investments. These three types of investments are known as the basic "asset classes":

- Stocks, also called equities, are shares of ownership in a company.
- Bonds, also called fixed income investments, are loans made to governments or corporations.
- Short-term investments, also known as cash equivalents, are designed to maintain their dollar value. Examples include money market funds, certificates of deposit and Treasury bills.

Although the investment menu in your workplace plan may have many options, most will fall into these basic groups, or a combination of them. Please note that asset allocation doesn't ensure a profit or protect against loss in a declining market, but it may be a sound strategy.

Why it's important.

Each asset class has different characteristics you should be aware of. Historically speaking, stocks have posed greater investment risk than the other asset classes, but have offered the potential for the highest return. Short-term investments have offered lower returns in exchange for low investment risk. Bonds have tended to fall somewhere in the middle.

Step 2 – Know your tolerance for risk.

How much risk you are comfortable with is an important consideration in choosing your asset allocation strategy. How do you feel about investment risk – the chance that your investments could lose money? You also need to think about inflation risk – the risk that conservative investments such as short-term investments may not keep pace with inflation.

Investing in more than one asset class – or a blend of them – may help to balance your risk. Mixing the various investment types can provide a balance of growth with preservation, because the markets for each investment don't always move in the same direction as each other.¹

Step 3 – Establish your time horizon.

Your tolerance for risk must be considered in the context of your time horizon. Do you have quite a bit of time until you retire or are you getting closer? In the short term, the most volatile investments, such as stocks, can rise and fall dramatically. Past performance is not indicative of future performance.

If you need your money within the next few years, you might want to avoid putting a large percentage into a single asset class that could dip in value in the short term. On the other hand, assuming you have six years or more before you will need your money, you may consider investing a percentage of your savings in investments that offer greater potential for return. That's because you have more time to potentially ride out short-term fluctuations in the value of your investments.

Step 4 – Determine your asset allocation strategy.

The participant website offers tools and resources to help. To determine which strategy may be right for you, check out the Risk Quiz. Log into your account » My Account » Investment Selection » Risk Quiz.

Revisit your strategy once a year and after major life events to ensure it is still in line with your current needs and outlook. You may want to consider adjusting the proportions of stocks, bonds and short-term investments as you get closer to retirement. Remember, everyone's situation will differ, and you should consult a financial advisor about your own particular situation.

*Investment allocation strategies are a convenient way of allocating your account among certain of the plan's individual investment options. Any investment allocation strategies included in these materials are not intended to be investment advice or recommendations to you and may or may not be appropriate for your circumstances. In applying investment allocation strategies to your individual circumstances, you should consider your other assets, income and investments as well as your risk tolerance. If you direct your contributions or current account balance to an investment allocation strategy, your contributions or account balance will be invested in each of the individual investment alternatives in the percentages indicated for the strategy. The plan may offer other investment options not included in the strategies and the individual investment alternatives included in the strategies may also be available on a stand-alone basis. The Asset Allocation Strategies chart lists asset classes, along with their weightings in the allocation strategy.

RISK DISCLOSURES FOR CERTAIN ASSET CATEGORIES – PLEASE NOTE THAT YOUR PLAN MAY NOT OFFER ALL OF THE INVESTMENT TYPES DISCUSSED BELOW.

Please consider an investment option's objectives, risks, fees and expenses carefully before investing. This and other information about the investment option can be found in the applicable prospectuses or summary prospectuses, if any, or fact sheets for the investment options listed, which are available from your plan sponsor, the participant website at www.retiresmart.com or by contacting our Participant Information Center at 1-800-743-5274 between 8:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m. ET, Monday through Friday. Please read them carefully before investing.

If a retirement plan fully or partially terminates its investment in the Guaranteed Interest Account (GIA), Super Flex (SF) Guaranteed, Fixed Interest Account or Separate Account Guaranteed Interest Contract (SAGIC) investment options, the plan receives the liquidation value of its investment, which may either be more or less than the book value of its investment. As a result of this adjustment, a participant's account balance may be either increased or decreased if the plan fully or partially terminates the contract with Empower.

Government/Retail Money Market Funds:

You could lose money by investing in the fund. Although the fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it cannot guarantee it will do so. The fund may impose a fee upon the sale of your shares or may temporarily suspend your ability to sell shares if the fund's liquidity falls below required minimums because of market conditions or other factors. An investment in the fund is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. The fund's sponsor has no legal obligation to provide financial support to the fund, and you should not expect that the sponsor will provide financial support to the fund at any time.

Money Market Floating NAV:

You could lose money by investing in the fund. Because the share price of the fund will fluctuate, when you sell your shares they may be worth more or less than what you originally paid for them. The fund may impose a fee upon the sale of your shares or may temporarily suspend your ability to sell shares if the fund's liquidity falls below required minimums because of market conditions or other factors. An investment in the fund is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. The fund's sponsor has no legal obligation to provide financial support to the fund, and you should not expect that the sponsor will provide financial support to the fund at any time.

Risks of investing in bond and debt securities investments include the risk that a bond issuer will default by failing to repay principal and interest in a timely manner (credit risk) and/or the risk that the value of these securities will decline when interest rates increase (interest rate risk).

Risks of investing in inflation-protected bond investments include credit risk and interest rate risk. Neither the bond investment nor its yield is guaranteed by the U.S. Government.

High yield bond investments are generally subject to greater market fluctuations and risk of loss of income and principal than lower yielding debt securities investments.

Investments in value stocks may remain undervalued for extended periods of time, and the market may not recognize the intrinsic value of these securities.

Investments that track a benchmark index are professionally managed investments. However, the benchmark index itself is unmanaged and does not incur fees or expenses and cannot be purchased directly for investment.

Investments in growth stocks may experience price volatility due to their sensitivity to market fluctuations and dependence on future earnings expectations.

Investments in companies with small or mid market capitalization ("small caps" or "mid caps") may be subject to special risks given their characteristic narrow markets, limited financial resources, and less liquid stocks, all of which may cause price volatility.

International/global investing can involve special risks, such as political changes and currency fluctuations. These risks are heightened in emerging markets. Other trading restrictions may apply. Please see the investment's prospectus for more details.

A significant percentage of the underlying investments in aggressive asset allocation portfolio options have a higher than average risk exposure. Investors should consider their risk tolerance carefully before choosing such a strategy.

An investment with multiple underlying investments (which may include MassMutual RetireSmart and any other offered proprietary or non-proprietary asset-allocation, lifestyle, lifecycle or custom blended investments) may be subject to the expenses of those underlying investments in addition to those of the investment itself.

Investments may reside in the specialty category due to 1) allowable investment flexibility that precludes classification in standard asset categories and/or 2) investment concentration in a limited group of securities or industry sectors. Investments in this category may be more volatile than less-flexible and/or less-concentrated investments and may be appropriate as only a minor component in an investor's overall portfolio.

Participants with a large ownership interest in a company or employer stock investment may have the potential to manipulate the value of units of this investment option through their trading practices. As a result, special transfer restrictions may apply. This type of investment option presents a higher degree of risk than diversified investment options under the plan because it invests in the securities of a single company.

Investments that invest more of their assets in a single issuer or industry sector (such as company stock or sector investments) involve additional risks, including unit price fluctuations, because of the increased concentration of investments.

A participant will be prohibited from transferring into most mutual funds and similar investments if they have transferred into and out of the same investment within the previous 60 days. Certain stable value, guaranteed interest, fixed income and other investments are not subject to this rule. This rule does not prohibit participants from transferring out of any investment at any time.

Excessive Trading Policy: Empower strongly discourages plan participants from engaging in excessive trading. The Empower Excessive Trading Policy helps protect the interests of long-term investors like you. If you would like to view the Empower Excessive Trading Policy, please visit Empower's participant website at www.retiresmart.com. In addition, you cannot transfer into any investment options if you have already made a purchase followed by a sale (redemption) involving the same investment within the last sixty days.
