

Look at each set of pictures and tell one way that they are alike/similar and one way that they are different.

*Remember you may need to think about the group, what you do with it, what its made of, its parts, or where you find it.

1)

shutterstock.com • 1497503726

2)

3)

Look at each set of pictures and tell one way that they are alike/similar and one way that they are different.

*Remember you may need to think about the group, what you do with it, what its made of, its parts, or where you find it.

4)

5)

6)

Look at each set of pictures and tell one way that they are alike/similar and one way that they are different.

*Remember you may need to think about the group, what you do with it, what its made of, its parts, or where you find it.

7)

shutterstock.com • 397222102

8)

9)

Look at each set of pictures and tell one way that they are alike/similar and one way that they are different.

*Remember you may need to think about the group, what you do with it, what its made of, its parts, or where you find it.

10)

11)

12)

Look at each set of pictures and tell one way that they are alike/similar and one way that they are different.

*Remember you may need to think about the group, what you do with it, what its made of, its parts, or where you find it.

13)

14)

15)

Look at each set of pictures and tell one way that they are alike/similar and one way that they are different.

*Remember you may need to think about the group, what you do with it, what its made of, its parts, or where you find it.

16)

17)

18)

