NURSE'S NEWS

HEALTHY EATING HABITS!

There's no great secret to healthy eating. Here are a few ways for your family to develop healthy eating habits by eating these:

- Fruits, veggies, whole grain products
- Low-fat dairy products
- Lean meats

THE BOOKWORM

October was full of fun in the library! First, students learned about monarch butterflies' migration to Mexico. At the end of October students learned how to scan a QR code. Students practiced by going on a QR alphabet hunt and scanning QR codes to find letters. During the week of Halloween, students used QR codes to listen to Halloween stories. This STEM skill will be helpful throughout the year in the library.

COUNSELOR'S CORNER

Your child is participating in our Brain Smart Buzz morning show every day, which includes a new commitment lesson with me. During the commitment lesson, I teach and practice a new feeling word and/or problem-solving skill with them. Your child has learned the new feeling words "frustrated" and "impatient" recently. Identifying their feelings and using them to express themselves and problem solve with their teachers and friends is vital for their success now and in the future. Encourage them to use those skills at home, too.

FAMILY ENGAGEMENT COORDINATOR

A special thank you to all of our parents for the time and energy that you devote to your children. Help us teach them that school attendance is important. Building the habit of attending school at the preschool level teaches them that going to school on time, every day is important. Attending school regularly helps students feel better about school and themselves. Good attendance will help students do well in higher grades, college, and at work. You are the key to their success!
