Georgia Novice Rules

Novice Rules

1. Novice students may not modify the plan texts.
2. Novice students will be allowed to update arguments on their own so long as the content of the argument does not change. If any major argument becomes non-unique the GFCFA Executive Committee will release a new argument to take its place.
3. Novice students may rearrange the organization of evidence and modify tags, underlining, and highlighting, but they may not add new arguments and/or change the content of the arguments in the packet. Students may also find new evidence to support existing packet arguments but not change the fundamental intent of the argument. In general, if an argument involves “one card from this file, and one card from that file,” etc., it is not allowed.
4. Novice students are limited to the list of topicality and theory arguments included in the packet files.
5. Novice students may not modify counterplan and Kritik alternative texts.
